PRETTY gorgeous

Everything you need to make this month your most beautiful yet!

THE EYES HAVE IT

Darphin Wrinkle Corrective Eye Contour Cream, £39, has it all: there are peptides for wrinkles, a sugar derivative to even tone, plant oils to plump, magnolia to soothe and light-reflective particles to brighten. Fabulous!

Sleep aid
You'll never look sexy in a sleep mask – so why not have fun with it? We love the This Is A Limited Edition 'Cherries' Silk Eye Mask, £14. It's sure to attract amused glances when you're nodding off on the plane. Not that you'll notice, of course.

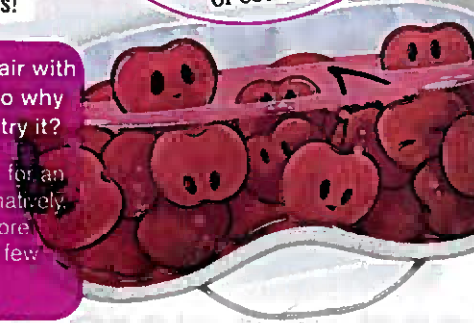

COLD COMFORT

The latest trend in deodorants is a welcome one: it's all about soothing underarm skin. Nivea uses witch hazel to calm post-shave burn, plus pro-vitamin B5 to regenerate skin, in its Calm & Care Anti-Perspirant Deodorant, £1.99. And Malin+Goetz Eucalyptus Deodorant, £15, deploys cooling, antibacterial eucalyptus.

Q&A

My friend conditions her hair with oil and it looks amazing. So why does mine go lank when I try it?

You can use olive oil as a deep conditioner (leave on for an hour or so), but you must wash it out thoroughly. Alternatively, some light plant oils can be worked through hair before blow-drying for glossy, silky strands – but only use a few drops. Try beautiful-smelling Oroluido Hair Oil, £25.

MAKEUP SECRETS

IN ASSOCIATION WITH MAX FACTOR

TRIBAL EYES

Serious smoulder is all in the eyes, as this season's catwalk looks proved. Make him go weak at the knees with these tips from Max Factor's celebrity makeup artist Caroline Barnes, who recreates the Tribal Jewels look by Max Factor's trendsetter, Pat McGrath.

"First, apply a little foundation across your eyelids and brow bone. Then, set your base with a dusting of translucent powder," says Caroline. "Using the applicator provided, sweep Masterpiece Colour Precision Eyeshadow in Star Dust, RRP £6.99, across your lids and just up into your sockets. Blend away the edges with your fingertip, and then sweep the applicator along your lower lash line to give your eyes a touch of mystery.

"Next, dab a touch of Earth Spirits Eyeshadow in Ultra Aqua, RRP £4.45, on the centre of your eyelid as well as the centre of your lower lashes," continues Caroline. "Every time you close your eyes, you will show off a beautiful flash of colour. It's an irresistible touch – people will actually do a double-take!"

"Then amp up the intensity by smudging a little Kohl Pencil in Black, RRP £4.50, along the bottom lashline. Finish the look with two coats of Lash Extension Effect Mascara, RRP £10.99," she concludes. "Really make use of the tapered wand, pulling it through your lashes from root to tip to give a beautiful fan-like effect. Now, go and knock 'em dead in the blink of an eye..."
